

GEORGIAN

21 February International Mother Language Day

The mother tongue is the heart and soul of the people. I request my mother tongue both for myself and for the Georgian people living in Turkey.

The mother tongue is the heart and soul of the people. I request my mother tongue both for myself and for the Georgian people living in Turkey. I do not want it to be forgotten and disappear. Therefore I support the peoples' struggle to protect, develop and use their mother language. I extend my greatest respect to anyone working for this.

I am Eşref Yılmaz Maxaradze. I was born in the AGARA neighborhood of Çukur village of Imerxevi, Şavşat, Artvin. I moved to Istanbul after retiring from teaching. Currently I am working on our mother tongue as the President of the Georgian Cultural Center.
